

This is the second edition of our Newsletter Translational Research with news about translational research topics, funding possibilities, CCC-N events and more. Our newsletters are also available on the G-CCC website. As the news are relevant for the entire CCC-N, the G-CCC Newsletter will now be a CCC-N Newsletter. Thanks for reading!

Research and lab insights of CCC-N researchers: Interview with Prof. Matthias Dobbelstein

What exactly do CCC-N researchers do in the lab, how did they choose their career paths, and how can patients benefit from research activities of the CCC-N? These and other questions are addressed in our new interview series available on the CCC-N website. We started with Prof. Matthias Dobbelstein of the Institute for Molecular Oncology at the UMG. He aims to understand cancer at a molecular level and is especially interested in the roles and activities of p53 and MDM2 in cancer cells. Stay tuned for upcoming interviews with UMG and MHH cancer researchers of the CCC-N!

Eva Luise Köhler Award

The Eva Luise and Horst Köhler Foundation for People with Rare Diseases, in close cooperation with the Alliance of Chronic Rare Diseases (ACHSE) e.V., awards an annual prize (50.000 €) for research projects dedicated to rare diseases.

Deadline for application is 04.09.2022.

Please visit the Achse-Online website for more details and eligibility of application.

Berlin-Brandenburg Academy of Sciences and Humanities – BBAW Prize

The prize (10.000 €) can be awarded for outstanding achievements in the field of cancer research. To be eligible, candidates should be considered “young” in terms of their achievements.

Please visit the website of the academy for detailed information and for the procedure of nominations (Deadline 15.09.2022).

DFG & Fraunhofer: Trilateral Transfer Projects

Affiliation CCC-N in Cancer Publications

Scientific publications represent an important metric for generating scientific recognition and visibility in research. By adding the CCC-N affiliation of authors to publications, the visibility of the CCC-N is improved. The CCC-N affiliation should be used in cancer related publications by clinics and departments that are affiliated with the CCC-N. Please use “CCC-N (Comprehensive Cancer Center Lower Saxony)” as an affiliation in your publications. If you have any questions, please contact us.
